Things to do in the Black Hills

Almost everyone has heard of Mount Rushmore. In fact, it's probably the biggest reason people travel to the Black Hills of South Dakota. Let's face it though, you can only look at the amazing sculptures for so long. What else can you do to pass the time and have a great vacation?

For starters, there are great things to do right there at the memorial, that a lot of people are surprised to learn about. From the actual studio sculptor Gutzon Borglum worked in while working on the sculpture, to the relatively new Presidential Trail that allows you to hike right up to the base of the mountain, this book shares some of the best activities to try at the Shrine of Democracy.

The rest of the region is filled with great attractions. Organized by area to allow you to plan daily excursions, you can find just what will fit your vacation needs, whether you're a family looking for kid friendly attractions, or just adults looking for fun activities.

If you're worried about the cost of your trip, be sure to check out the listing of low cost activities. There's even a section on where to eat, so you can enjoy some local eateries.
